Cath Kidston Roberts Revival DAB in "Washed Rose"

Floral aural

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 13 September 2007

Cutesy Brit designer Cath Kidston and Roberts Radios have extended their product partnership with a new model.

Following the birds and stars designs already released, a new "Washed Rose" decaled offering is being launched.

The floral design will decorate a Roberts Revival DAB digital radio that harks back to vintage "wireless" devices.

The look may be nostalgic but the hardware is up-to-date with PausePlus, text display, auto-tuning and other DAB good stuff you'd expect from Roberts.

Available from Cath Kidston stores, as well as online, the premium you pay for the pretty pink looks is £200.
