Gaming phone from Utec with detachable controller

Well, that's one way of doing it

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 3 October 2007

Check out this gaming phone from far east manufacturer Utec - it offers a full size controller which can be attached to the phone for "easy" gaming.

Makes Nokia's N-Gage offerings look positive futuristic. We wonder if Sony Ericsson have noted the design for their on and off rumoured PSP phone...
