Apple Macs get Blu-ray drives...

...From aftermarket specialist

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 8 October 2007

Not direct from Apple, but Mac users in the States can now get Blu-ray drives in Mac laptops and desktop computers.

Aftermarket Mac specialist, FastMac, who offer products and add-ons that can mod your Mac to make it do almost everything faster, better and harder, are now offering Blu-ray optical drives for a range of models.

The introductory price of $999.95 will likely only appeal to those who need Blu-ray's massive storage, as well as high-def capabilities, for professional reasons.
