USB Desktop Arcade Challenge games launches

Whack it

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 12 October 2007

Bring classic arcade gaming to your desktop with the USB whack it.

Powered by USB or batteries, the desktop arcade challenge includes 30 second or 1 minute game play modes and an LED scoreboard next to the start/stop button at the front.

Held in place by four suction pads on the feet, the idea is that as the moles flash you whack them, gaining one point for every hit you make.

It sounds simple and should be, but the game gets quicker as the time progresses, the moles flash red, green and yellow and there's some "weird" sound effects to heighten the excitement.

£9.95. Well, it's one way to relieve those office tensions...
