Sagem has launched the my411cv, a clamshell version of the my411v.

To appeal to the female audience, the handset's top cover is white with a pink trim while the back of the handset is entirely pink.

The handset has a VGA camera with video capture and playback, a music player (additional microSD card required for mass music storage) and alarm.

It boasts a 128 x 160 pixel 65k colour screen and comes pre-loaded with five games: Block Breaker, Midnight Bowling, Midnight Pool, the award-winning Lego Star Wars and the classic game Worms.

The WAP 2.0 handset can access Vodafone Live! that enables the user to access content including sports news, entertainment news, games, videos, music and more.

The my411cv is available now in Woolworths for £40 on a Vodafone pay-as-you-go package.
