Good lord. iSkins is trying to revive the Dancing Flowers we all knew and, ahem, love from back in the late-80s.

Now available as speakers with a 3.5mm audio jack to hook up to any audio source, you can recreate the look of your sister's bedroom circa 1989.

Available in two sizes, 30cm and a 73cm version, these colourful creations will cost £18.99 and £34.99.

What's next? The jiving Coke can with sunglasses?
