Toshiba UK has announced an offer where it will give away five free HD DVDs to anyone who buys one of its new range of laptops that come with built-in HD DVD players, such as models from the Qosmio and Satellite ranges.

Anyone buying a new Toshiba HD laptop will now be able to kick-off a high definition movie collection with a choice of titles including Children of Men, Full Metal Jacket, Chronicles of Riddick, Hulk and The Prestige.

The Toshiba five free HD DVDs offer closes on the 31st January 2008 and is via a mail in process with info provided of purchase.
