Creative prepping 32GB Zen?

Singapore site slip...

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 22 November 2007

An entry on the Singapore site for Creative has shown a 32GB version of the Creative Zen MP3 player.

On the site, the flash-memory based player is shown as available in what would be a world first 32GB as well as the existing 4GB, 8GB and 16GB versions.

Creative were one of the first companies to offer a 16GB flash-based player, beating Apple to the capacity milestone.

It's thought that the slip was a mistake at this stage, rather than a hint for an imminent product launch, but we'll see.
