

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/11468/first-ixos-cases-ipod-nano>

First by Ixos cases go glam for iPod fattie

Testosterone-sapping skins

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 28 November 2007

The First range by Ixos for the new iPod nano has got some new glammed up options in time for the stocking filler rush.

The XMI419-AS is made from silicone and available in pink, white or black for £7.99. This option gives your nano protection from dust, dirt and scratches while protecting the screen too. Cut-outs in all the appropriate places obviously give access to all necessary bits.

The XMI419-DI is a heady mix of silicone and diamante, comes in white and costs £9.99. Again there's body and screen protection and all necessary access.

The XMI429-DI "Crystal Diamante" is £14.99 and is clear so your nano's colour can show through, albeit with some diamante effects on the case itself. Complete with a "fashionable" pendant this certainly, er, makes a statement.

For the less girly, there's also just a clear silicon option and the XMI439-SR which is made from aluminium with a silver finish for £17.99. This is created from aircraft grade aluminium and has neoprene inner lining.

All the cases are available from HMV, Halfords and Borders.

