ETRI shows flexible OLEDs for clothing

Really lets you wear it on your sleeve...

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 3 December 2007

In the future we'll all be driving flying cars, have mobile phone implants in our ears and be sporting wearable electronics.

Bringing us a step closer to that happy day is ETRI, who has recently shown off flexible OLEDs that can be incorporated into a tie, a hat, a wallet and other "small lifestyle products".
