

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/12618/o2-3-mobile-video-community>

O2 and 3 join forces for mobile video community

"EyeVibe" to offer single solution

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 4 February 2008

Mobile phone operators 3 and O2 have announced they are to join forces to create what will become the UK's largest open access mobile video community.

EyeVibe is to be a mobile video community that combines the two operator's video services - 3's SeeMeTV and O2's LookAtMe! - into a single community allowing any UK mobile subscriber with a video-enabled handset to share and earn cash from their mobile video clips.

Members of the EyeVibe mobile social networking community will be able to access a library of video captured from mobile handsets while being able to interact using messaging, voting and comment.

