Megawhat news is live from Mobile World Congress

Moving pictures ... technicolour ...
sound ... why, it's video news!

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 12 February 2008

As much as you are no doubt enjoying our static news from the Mobile World Congress currently going on out in Barcelona at the moment, we'd like to remind you that our sister site Megawhat is offering daily video news round-ups.

The intrepid Stuart Miles, braving the show floor, is visiting stands, talking to company insiders and getting hands-on with a huge range of mobile devices.

Hit the link below to go direct to the latest episode, where you can watch tech news videos until your eyes bleed. Just don't forget to check back with Pocket-lint for news of the show, and all the launches, updated on pretty much an as-it-happens basis. Best of both worlds...
