Bluetrek's bling headset

Sweet as!

by Katie Scott published on 21 February 2008

Big bling is still popular but how's this for practicality - a pendant so chunky and shiny that it'd make P Diddy proud but concealing the technology needed to run a headset.

The Sugar range from Bluetrek consists of the Sugar Diamond, Black Diamond and Black Silver.

None of the headsets feature an ear hook but will just fit comfortably into your ear with use of a soft Ergobud adjustable earpiece.

Extra features include a built-in, pre-recorded voice alert to confirm functions and warn of a failing battery; 7 hours of talking or 10.5 days of standby time; and compatibility with any Bluetooth 1.2 device.

They are available now for £39.99.
