Brando launches glowing four-port USB hub

Bring light to a dreary desk

by Katie Scott published on 29 February 2008

So USB ports aren't the most exciting thing on your desk but here's something a little different.

Brando has launched a new four-port USB hub with digital alarm and seven-colour moodlight.

It combines functionality with loveliness lights, which is always nice.

This 3 x 3 x 1 inch dinky device is available now for $16.
