

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/13272/navngo-shows-iphone-running-gps>

CeBIT 2008: iPhone getting GPS add-on?

Nav N Go shows satnav solution that uses "upcoming receiver"

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 5 March 2008

Show floor rumours from CeBIT have tipped us that Nav N Go have announced a version of its satnav software iGO MyWay 8 for the iPhone that will use an "upcoming yet to be announced iPhone GPS receiver".

We have managed to speak to a Nav N Go representative on the stand at CeBIT who has confirmed that they have launched a version of the software for the iPhone, but was evasive about exactly how the GPS side of things works.

We are waiting for more information and will keep you posted. Don't forget - tomorrow is iPhone SDK day at Apple HQ...

