HANNSpree launches HANNSMilano "handbag-inspired" TV

Complete with genuine leather finish

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 10 March 2008

Apparently "inspired by today's modern woman" the HANNSMilano is a new "fashion" LCD TV that resembles an Italian style handbag.

The HANNSMilano's three dimensional design and two tone appearance features both a high-gloss lustrous black finish and 100% genuine imported Italian leather exterior with delicate and intricate detailing.

True to its bag roots, the 9.6-inch LCD TV includes a carry strap for easy positioning, and a cable management facility that tucks away cables so as not to distract from the overall designer look of the set.

Angled as the perfect gift for the girl that has everything - well, apart from a bag-shaped telly, of course - it launches in the UK this month for £129.99 directly from HANNSpree.
