Jeans get built-in keyboard

Wear your input device

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 23 April 2008

We think these jeans with built-in keyboard and mouse will divide the geeks from the mere gadget-lovers.

If, like us, you think, "Wow, what a cool idea", you're firmly on the true geek side of things. If you think this is a bonkers concept then perhaps there's hope for you yet.

We especially like the mouse tucking into the back pocket, a nice little attention to detail touch worthy of mention.
