

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/14265/personal-bad-breath-detector-launched>

Bad breath-o-meter

Gizmo that tells you when to munch mints

by Katie Scott published on 28 April 2008

Pals are often too polite to tell you when you've got bad breath but this little device isn't.

Just breathe on the Kiss Me Personal Bad Breath Detector, and LEDs will light up to indicate if you are just about to knock out your loved one when you pucker up.

For $19, this could save you any embarrassment, but we don't suggest you buy it for anyone else, because, no matter how fresh your breath, they might not want to talk to you ever again.

