Candy colours for the Asus Eee

Japanese gets mini PCs in blue, green and pink

by Katie Scott published on 1 May 2008

Those lucky chaps in Japan will soon be able to get their mitts on three new, and very pretty, versions of the Asus Eee UMPC.

Asustek has unveiled "Sky Blue", "Rush Green" and "Brush Pink" versions of the Eee PC 4G-X.

This is the Windows XP UMPC, which offers pretty much the same specs as the original model - namely a LCD screen in 800 x 480 (WVGA), 4GB of SSD, and up to 2GB of RAM - but does not run on Linux.

The trio will be released in Japan on 3 May, but no news on when this cacophony of colours will reach the UK.
