XCM's glow in the dark faceplate for PSPs

So you can play all day and all night

by Katie Scott published on 9 May 2008

Is it a games console, is it a PMP, or is it a torch?

No, it's the XCM Magic Night Glow face plate which was created specially for the PSP Slim.

The plate will not affect your gaming abilities, and although it may prove a bit distracting if you're watching a movie, just think how handy it could be on a dark night when you want to walk, play and not fall over your own feet.

No pricing as yet but plenty of glowing (geddit?) reports.
