

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/14631/jays-m-jays-iphone-earphone-adapter>

Jays launches iPhone adapter for earphone range

Combined with headset

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 13 May 2008

Clearly hoping the rumours that the next-gen iPhone will offer a "normal" headphone jack aren't true, Swedish designer and manufacturer of portable media accessories, Jays, has made its earphone range compatible with said mobile, thanks to the launch of a new stereo music adapter.

m-JAYS iPhone is a combined stereo handset/music adapter which is fully compatible with the iPhone's recessed 3.5mm earphone jack. It can be used with any earphones (of course including the Jay's range) and features call answering button and "finely tuned" microphone for superior speech clarity.

As a launch offer, a special m-JAYS iPhone bundle is available priced £39.99 which includes a pair of stereo j-JAYS earphones, or, the iPhone adapter can be purchased separately for £9.99.

