

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/14711/vertebrae-vertical-bathroom-system-reviewed>

VIDEO: Vertebrae vertical bathroom system

Space saving bathroom bonanza

by Katie Scott published on 22 May 2008

This unique British design is the ultimate space saver for those who like luxury but don't have much room.

The Vertebrae is a vertical bathroom solution, which means that it offers everything you need for your ablutions without taking up precious floor space (it has a foot print of just 0.4 square metres).

Although the Vertebrae can be completely customised, we saw a version at the Grand Designs Live show in central London, which offered two huge showers (one for you and a lower one for your sprogs); a toilet, cistern, storage and a basin.

Designer Paul showed us how the whole thing works.

Check out the vid by hitting the arrow button above or hit the link below to see all of our coverage of what could be found in the home of the future at Megawhat.tv.

