Windows Vista on your iPhone

A freaky phone Frankenstein

by Katie Scott published on 20 May 2008

Does this look completely unfeasible to you?

Just one pic has caused consternation and confusion amongst us Pocket-linters and hence why we thought we had better bring the story to you.

This is what appears to be an iPhone running a Microsoft OS.

VistaPerfection 2.0 delivers Vista wallpapers, graphics, sound effects and over 90 Vista icons to your Apple appliance.

And it even simulates Vista's sidebar and start menu.

This is definitely one for those of you who took a begrudging bite of the Apple, but now want to back Bill Gates.
