Is a Flip mini camcorder on the cards?

Rumours mount of "Mino"

by Katie Scott published on 22 May 2008

Creative may have just brought out the Vado, which is being touted as a rival to the Flip camcorder, but the Flip Video team have come back with something new.

OK such it's just a rumour at the moment, but the clever chaps over at CNET have spotted what looks like a Mini Flip in the B&H catalogue.

The Mino, which is listed as having a $179.99 price tag, comes in white and black; and will be released (hopefully) on the 4 June.
