I-O Data Mini keyboard for your phone

Text, call and type

by Katie Scott published on 28 May 2008

OK so you may look a bit daft using it but for all of you who have a super-duper phone with an inevitably dinky keypad, here's a solution for when you need to type fast.

I-O Data has designed a mini keyboard for your mobile phone.

You simply connect it up using Bluetooth and then can type away.

There's no information as yet as to whether or not it'll be coming to the UK, and no price either, but watch this space.
