WEBSITE OF THE DAY - zoopla.co.uk

Put a value to your bricks and mortar

by Ian Hughes published on 29 May 2008

Uncertain times these. We're heading for a recession, yet still the multinationals are announcing record profits. Depending on who your listen too, demand for oil is down (at least in the West) yet fuel prices are rocketing. Interest rates are up and the credit crunch is really starting to bite.

And if you're unlucky like me then it's time to remortgage. And the timing couldn't be worse.

This site can help out. Very simply, it'll estimate how much your house is worth. It does this by looking at recent sales and trends in your area and also lets you edit your property details to get a more detailed estimate of its true value.

Invaluable when you're filling in all those online applications and comparison forms trying to get a better rate.
