Dinky digital photo frame for your fridge

Can hold 66 snaps

by Katie Scott published on 30 May 2008

You can now cover your fridge, or in fact any metallic surface, with pics of your little darlings.

And, with the wonder of modern technology, the faces in the frame will change.

The Fridge Magnet Frame sees the ever-increasingly popular digital photo frame miniaturised and magnetised.

It contains 32MB of internal memory so can store up to 66 photos and will display snaps in 320 x 240 resolution.

The manufacturer adds that it supports JPG, BMP, and GIF formats and pics can be uploaded via USB.

In addition there is a pop out stand that lets you sit it on tabletops.

The Fridge Magnet Photo Frame is priced £29.99.
