Designed for everyday printing in the home, the S20 has an £40 price tag, while individual ink cartridges will cost consumers £5.99 each.

The Stylus S20 includes Epson PhotoEnhance technology, which auto-detects skin tones, landscapes and skylines are reproduced with the boast that it enhances colour settings to improve the overall tones and contrasts.

Also included is Epson Easy Photo Print, which claims to make it easy to remove red-eye. The Stylus S20 offers print speeds of up to 26 pages per minute in black and white and 14ppm in colour.

The Stylus S20 will be available in July for £39.99.
