VIDEO: Megawhat checks out the MotorExpo

Hot cars and even hotter gadgets

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 23 June 2008

This week the Megawhat crew motors to Canary Wharf for the MotorExpo for an absolute visual feast of cars. Get ready for uber-shiny paintwork, big alloys and some jaw-dropping dashboard technology.

There's a look at the new Land Rover, BMW's new SUV, a "Hellcat" motorbike and presenter Stuart Miles gets to sit in the Aston Martin DBS and sees the kind of gadgetry that James Bond gets to enjoy.

Elsewhere Katie Scott takes a look at the new motion sensing Sony Ericsson F305 gaming phone and there's also a squint Nokia's new business offering, the E71.

Hit the play button in the window above to get watching this week's feature episode - it's 8 whole minutes of gadget goodness.
