Ovei pod offers "Personal Media Experience"

Shut yourself away with a good video

by Stuart Miles published on 24 June 2008

Got £50,000 to spare on a personal entertainment experience? Then you'll need the Ovei.

Launched at CEDIA in the UK on Tuesday, the pod offers you an enclosed space to watch, play and relax according to its makers.

Designed by Lee McCormack and engineered by McLaren Applied Technologies, those of F1 fame, each capsule is bespoke and hand crafted to client specifications.

According to the makers, users will be able to set it up with any kit they want from a PS3 to Xbox to media server as well as choosing the colour and interior.

Expect to see them in swanky bachelor pads on Grand Designs shortly.
