DXG goes budget with $179 DXG-567V camcorder

Upload straight to YouTube

Way back in April, DXG released details of the DXG-569V - claimed to be one of the cheapest HD-capable camcorders on the market.

OK so it's $10 more expensive, but DXG has added a new budget line-up to its camcorder line-up.

The $179 DXG-567V HD camcorder is available in four different hues, ships with rechargeable AA batteries and uploads directly to YouTube and other video sharing sites.

DXG says that its newest machine captures video at 1280 x 720 (same as the DXG-569V) at 30fps.

There's no news on a UK launch though as yet.
