

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/16170/thinkgeek-hidden-flash-drive-watch>

USB hidden flash drive watch launches

For secret missions

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 16 July 2008

Perfect for wanna-be spies, ThinkGeek is offering a wristwatch with a storage secret - a hidden USB flash drive.

Cunningly concealed within the innocuous looking watch's casing is a 4GB capacity USB flash drive.

Simply remove, add data and then re-insert and you're ready to conduct secret missions in super spy style.

The watch itself has a Japanese movement, plastic case covered by stainless steel mask with brushed silver finish and convex mineral glass.

Available now, the cunning device is $60 from ThinkGeek.

