Agfaphoto 7-inch digital photo frame launches

On sale for £50

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 16 July 2008

Sagem has announced a "value for money" digital photo frame from AgfaPhoto.

The AF5075 7-inch frame boasts a four-type (SD/MMC/MS/XD) memory card reader, remote control and interchangeable frames (metal, black or wood effect) for £59.99 - or less.

Single images can be still displayed or it offers a slideshow mode, the frame will display JPEG images which can be uploaded via USB cable/key or via a memory card direct from your digital camera.

Weighing 0.5kg and complete with a remote control, the AF5075 is available at Argos and Amazon for £49.99, further 7-inch and 8-inch frames are expected to be announced over the next 6 months.
