

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/16298/apple-promise-new-products-2008>

Apple promises new products by year end

What could they be?

by Stuart Miles published on 21 July 2008

Steve Jobs, Apple's CEO, has promised more new products before the end of the year at the company's financial results conference call on Monday.

"We're busy finishing several more wonderful new products to launch in the coming months," said the CEO sending the gadget community into fever pitch as to what new products he was talking about.

So what do you think Apple is planning? New laptops, new iPods, a Mac tablet?

We will keep you posted.

