Sex and the City themed iPod speaker

It's faaaaaaabolous

by Katie Scott published on 28 July 2008

You watched the series religiously, you went to see the movie with a gaggle of girlfriends, all you need now is the Sex and the City themed iPod speaker.

It's pink, it has pictures of shoes and martini glasses on it and it's portable enough to fit in your baguette bag.

Better yet, there are no batteries required for it to operate so it's green (as well as hot pink).

And it's just $19.99.

Also available from the HBO store are similarly portable and branded iPod speakers for those who like the Sopranos and Entourage.
