Camouflage iPod Case from Louis Vuitton

For urban warriors with cash to splash

by Katie Scott published on 28 July 2008

The alligator version of the Louis Vuitton iPhone case was a mere $1120 so for all of you who bought it and now think it's soooooo last season, then here's an update.

The fashion house has now launched a camouflage themed range of iPod and iPhone cases.

And they're just $280.

The design was inspired from Japanese artist Takashi Murakami so they've got to be worth forking out for (!!).
