Speakal's iPig iPod docking station

Pig ugly!

by Katie Scott published on 14 August 2008

Did any of you out there wake up this morning and think that life wouldn't be complete without a bright yellow plastic pig on their desk?

Well, for a mere $139.99, you can go to the (online) market and bring this little piggy - the iPig - all the way home.

Inside, you get four speakers including a 4-inch subwoofer, and adjustable bass controls on the outside.

And the iPig is also claimed to squeal out 360-degree sound, and all in an "aesthetically pleasing design" (if you are a farmer or cried during Babe).
