Electronics Keyboards' dual display laptop

Company looking for backers now

This wouldn't look out of place with Gordon Gekko typing away on it while he yells into his massively oversized mobile: "Buy, buy, buy, sell, sell, sell...".

The company behind the Dual Display Laptop is Electronics Keyboards and it is currently pitching it to OEMs and even looking to sell the US patents.

So if someone decides this is the future of laptop design, we could all be trying to negotiate two screens whilst on the phone and trying to drink a cup of coffee in the future.

Perhaps they should add a splash proof cover?
