Pure unveils the i10 - the £30 iPod dock

IFA 2008: iTunes through your Pure radio

by Katie Scott published on 28 August 2008

With a price tag of just one penny under £30, the i10 from Pure allows you to connect your iPod to any audio device that has a 3.5mm stereo line input, including all of Pure's radios.

And it will also charge your iPod whilst it's playing.

In addition, Pure adds that the i10 will act as a remote control for your iPod, while it is docked.

Designed to be "discreet", the i10 has a black and silver finish, and is small enough to be packed in a suitcase for tunes whilst on hols.

And, reflecting this, Pure has added a two-pin Euro plug adaptor along with the standard UK power adaptor.

The Pure i10 will be available in September for £29.99.
