Sennheiser Communications MM 200 Bluetooth headset launches

For music lovers

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 4 September 2008

Sennheiser has launched the Communications MM 200, the first Stereo Bluetooth headset in the Sennheiser Communications product range and aimed at music lovers for £99.

A Bluetooth music headphone and microphone combo, it offers Stereo Bluetooth V2.0+EDR A2DP technology and in-ear-monitors that claim to effectively block out surrounding noise.

With full phone call and music control, the device offers up to 11 hours battery life with both mains and USB chargers supplied.

Sound quality is said to be "superb" with Sennheiser CX 400 in-ear capsules claiming to offer high dynamics, excellent bass response and there's three ear pads supplied for a comfortable fit.
