

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/17635/pc-world-advent-4123-netbook>

PC World launches Advent 4213

With embedded SIM card slot

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 15 September 2008

PC World has launched a new model of netbook under its Advent branding with the introduction of the Advent 4213.

Like the Advent 4211, that was an MSI Wind variant, it's a 10.2-inch ultra-portable but benefits from an embedded SIM card slot for mobile broadband that pushes the price from the 4211's £279 to £349.

The new netbook weighs 1.4kg, offers the 1.6GHz Intel Atom N270 processor and runs Windows XP Home.

The diminutive device has 1GB memory and a 160GB hard disk drive, gets built-in speakers and a "stylish" silver and black chassis.

