LG has announced the UK launch of the W2271TC, its new 22-inch monitor with in-built webcam, microphone and speakers.

Boasting a 20,000:1 Digital Fine Contrast ratio, the screen offers a resolution of 1680 x 1050, 5ms response time, brightness of 300 nits and 170 degree viewing angle.

The W2271TC also gets video recording, image capturing and zooming capabilities, the option to choose from a variety of frames, moving image effects and face tracking.

Described as slimline and with a black glossy frame and electric blue power button, pricing is said to be "affordable".
