High heels horror that is the shoe phone

Pink, plastic gift for a girlfriend (who you don't like anymore)

by Katie Scott published on 22 September 2008

The High Heels Phone is a bit of an acquired taste, just as Paris Hilton is.

If you have a girly boudoir, full of fluffy pink pillows, in which your chihuahua nestles, this is the phone for you.

You can switch it between tone and pulse, as well as a pause, flash and redial button.

It is 180 x 170 x 75mm and weighs just 260g so you won't break your plastic nails when you pick it up.
