VIDEO: First look at the Panasonic Lumix DMC-G1

The world's first Micro Four Thirds camera

by Katie Scott published on 2 October 2008

There were hoards of photo enthusiasts straining to see the world's first ever Micro Four Thirds model at this year's Photokina - the Panasonic DMC-G1.

But Pocket-lint's Stuart Miles pushed his way to the front to get a glimpse of the new model.
