

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/18276/lg-thier-laptop-privacy-filter>

LG promises privacy with LCD notebook filter

Keep sneaking eyes off your screen

by Katie Scott published on 9 October 2008

OK so perhaps you shouldn't be looking at Facebook at work but that doesn't mean that you're not allowed to get annoyed when your nosey neighbour tries to get a sneaky peek at the pics your mates have put up from last night's shenanigans.

But LG claims it has a solution in its new LCD Privacy Filter Technology, which is coming soon for just 50 euros.

It basically makes your LCD monitor contents invisible to anyone apart from the person sitting right in front of the screen.

Which means you can surf the Internet, send rude messages and poke mates on Facebook to your heart's content.

