3 to offer Nokia Comes With Music in the UK

N95 8GB to be announced soon

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 13 October 2008

Nokia's Comes With Music service has finally found a home with at least one UK mobile operator, Pocket-lint can confirm.

Further to reports that 3 will team-up with the Finnish phone company to offer the full, unlimited music download service, Pocket-lint's own industry sources have suggested that an official announcement is due soon.

Following talks with senior execs from both companies, the team-up will see 3 offer the music service on the popular N95 8GB, our anonymous source, who's close to the matter, has confirmed.

It had been reported that Nokia has been struggling to sign-up operator partners due to the impact it might have on their own services, but it seems 3, often described as the UK's most progressive network, is happy to take the risk.

We'll bring you more - including dates and rates - when we have the official release.
