Free digital frame with Epson EH-DM2 projector

Seven inch AF 5070 M model with 128MB memory

by Katie Scott published on 29 October 2008

Punters will get a free AgfaPhoto multimedia digital photoframe when they buy the Epson EH-DM2 projector.

The offer is running from the beginning of November until stocks run out.

The EH-DM2 projector is a portable models which combines a DVD player (with DivX compatibility) and two integrated 8W stereo speakers.

It delivers a brightness level of 1200 lumens and can be connected to PCs, digital cameras, games consoles and USB keys.

The seven inch digital photoframe has 128MB of internal memory, and will read images from a PC, USB key or memory card via the multiformat card reader.

It also offers MJPEG-compatibility and a built-in MP3 player.
