GEAR4 ProControl AV launches

All-in-on connection kit for your iPod and TV

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 30 October 2008

GEAR4 has announced the launch of the ProControl AV, a docking station with AV connection kit, sync cable and AC adapter for iPod.

With all iPods now having video download functionality, GEAR4's all-in-one connection kit that lets you watch your movies, YouTube clips and music videos on your TV.

Described as a "stylish" docking station, it also features a line out port, RCA cable and scart adapter - all you need for linking your iPod to your TV.

In addition, it includes a mini USB port and mini USB to USB cable for syncing your iPod with your PC or Mac and an AC adapter to charge up your iPod while it is docked.

Complete with fully functional remote control, it goes on sale from 8 November for £49.99.
