

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/19282/sharp-aquos-hdmi-photo-player>

Sharp Aquos range gets first photo player

Play your pics on your TV

by Katie Scott published on 18 November 2008

Sharp's Aquos brand is best known for its ultra thin TVs, but now the company has launched something different.

The Aquos Photo Player is a hybrid photo printer (delivering snaps at 300x300 dpi) and a memory card reader for getting your images up on your shiny, thin TV.

For displaying pics, there are several different slideshow options.

It also features an IR receiver for beaming photos to the player, and an HDMI output.

What it doesn't have is a built-in HDD so you'll have to find somewhere else to store all your pretty pics.

