VIDEO: Packard Bell's Dot netbook

The £299 ultra-portable caught on film

by Katie Scott published on 1 December 2008

Packard Bell's first ever netbook is going to be on shelves after Christmas.

This new 8.9-inch offering was first unveiled in September, but now Packard Bell has confirmed that the small scale laptop will go on sale in the UK from January 2009, starting at £299.

We've brought you the specs, we've given you pics. Now here's the vid...
